I recommend that the library subscribe to the monthly American Journal of Botany, a peer-reviewed plant science journal published by the Botanical Society of America. A subscription to AJB includes the quarterly Plant Science Bulletin, the newsletter of the Society. Please consider the American Journal of Botany during your next serials review meeting.

Print version: American Journal of Botany: ISSN 0002-9122

Electronic version: American Journal of Botany: ISSN 1537-2197

I recommend subscribing to:

Online AND print access for the current calendar year

Online-only access for the current calendar year

An online subscription allows access to all issues of AJB since 1997 through HighWire Press (www.amjbot.org); issues prior to 1997 are available through JSTOR.

I recommend these publications for the following reason(s):

BENEFIT TO THE LIBRARY: Acquisition of the journal will benefit and advance the institution's research and teaching needs, as well as the needs of faculty and students.

STUDENT REFERENCE: I refer my students to AJB regularly to advance their research and studies.

PERSONAL REFERENCE: I refer to AJB frequently in the course of my work, and I refer articles to colleagues as well.

PERSONAL AFFILIATION: I am a member of the editorial board and/or a regular contributing author, and I strongly support this journal and use it regularly.
